

Welcome to the new, streamlined YouthPLAYS catalogue, which features more than 300 plays and musicals, ranging from great choices for your mainstage season to plays for one-act competitions and festivals and even forensics. We've tried to keep things as compact as possible, but we also want them to be easy for you to understand. Each listing looks something like this:

TITLE by Author(s)

Genre. Min-Max running time. Cast (cast size range). Performing Group Codes.

Most of it is self-explanatory, but what are these Performing Group Codes?

ES = Elementary School

MS = Middle School/Junior High

HS = High School

UN = University

CO = Community Theatre (adults or mixed age casts)

YA = Theatre for Young Audiences (adults or older students performing for child audiences)

Example 1:

RUMORS OF POLAR BEARS by Jonathan Dorf

Dramedy. 90-100 min. 8-25+F 4-15+M (14-40+ possible). HS UN

This play is best suited for high school or university performers, and the audiences that typically attend those kinds of productions. Does it mean that your advanced middle school group can't perform it? No. But as always, read the script fully to decide what is best for your group.

Example 2:

MIRACLE IN MUDVILLE by D. W. Gregory

Comedy. 60-70 min. 13-17+F 5-11+M 3+E (21-31+ possible). MS YA

With the help of a ghostly librarian, a frustrated little league ballplayer and his friends take an unexpected trip into their parents' past to fix the present.

This play has both the MS and YA codes, which means that we think it's a great fit for middle school performers and their typical audience, as well as older performers (either teens or adults) performing for young (middle or elementary school-age) audiences.

We always recommend that you read the full script before making a decision, and all of our shows are available digitally—and almost all of them are available in printed versions as well. Click on the title to go to a play's listing on our website (www.youthplays.com) and read a longer synopsis and a substantial excerpt, to see pricing, and of course, to place an order. And now, on with the shows!

NOW WHAT?!

Visit us www.youthplays.com for detailed information on each play or book. Ready to place an order? Here's a primer on what you'll need.

WHAT DO I ORDER?

Just checking things out?

- Order a digital perusal script or printed script so that you can read it in its entirety and make a decision.

Want to produce a play? You'll need to order:

- Performance royalties—one for each time the play will be produced in front of an audience outside of the cast and crew.
- Scripts—either enough printed scripts for the cast and crew, or a production photocopy license, which comes with a PDF file and permission to make copies for your cast and crew.

Optional add-ons for productions:

- Limited Video License—allows you to legally record and make up to 100 DVDs/digital downloads to provide to the cast/crew, with local cable broadcast airings allowed for an additional fee.
- Musical Tracks—mp3 files for your production to use instead of a live band.

Want to study a play in the classroom? If you don't plan to perform in front of an audience (i.e. parents, other students):

- Classroom Photocopy License—comes with a PDF file and permission to make copies for your students. If you later decide to produce the play in front of an audience, just purchase as many Performance Royalties as you need! Simple!

Ready? Visit our website (www.youthplays.com), or alternatively, we accept orders by phone or mail.
